Firefighters show rescue techniques at open house

Elk Point residents joined the Elk Point Oilmen's Association in showing their appreciation to the Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department last week, with good attendance at Wednesday evening's open house at the fire hall.

The Oilmen fired up a barbecue and provided burgers and refreshments for a steady stream of visitors, who turned up to see the firefighters demonstrate their rescue equipment. Much of this equipment has been purchased with donations from the community in recent years, and this was an excellent opportunity to see it in use.

The youngsters in the crowd, including a contingent of Elk Point Beavers, were eager to take a turn at hopping into the cab of one of the fire trucks to blow the siren, and climbing up on the back to see where the firefighters ride on their way to a fire.

Meanwhile, the firefighters started their demonstration by showing the power of their inflatable lift. After stabilizing the vehicle with blocking to keep it from rolling over, the lift was placed under the back axle of a full-sized pickup truck. A few moments and a single air tank were all that were required to lift the vehicle's rear end high into the air. The lift is used to lift wreckage in motor vehicle accidents to allow removal of victims trapped inside or underneath.

Next was the extrication of two 'injured victims' from another pickup truck, which, viewers were told, had its doors disabled due to a crash. The rescuers reached in the back window to cover the victims with blankets, then quickly broke out the glass. A

Only one left, as Town sells two industrial lots

One small serviced lot is all that remains ready for sale in the Town of Elk Point's Industrial Subdivision, following the sale of two other lots last week.

Council spent an hour on an in-camera review of a proposal from Reid's Welding for the purchase of the lots, prior to meeting with representatives of that company at last Wednesday's special meeting of Council, and went back into camera again for further discussion before agreeing to the sale.

The two lots equal almost 8.4 acres and are located north of the Town Shop.

Reid's plan to build a fully serviced 100 foot by 40 foot shop on the site, as well as a separate office building, with construction to start in the immediate future. They hope to expand their operation with the construction of an additional building at a later date.

While the company had to up the ante on their purchase price from their original offer, they will be provided with a road and water and sewer services to the property line, rather than installing these themselves from the street corner west of the property, as they had offered to do in their proposal. Mayor Buck told the purchasers that the utility lines and road would be constructed by the Town and at the Town's cost because they will be needed for lots which will be developed east of the current industrial park if additional lots are needed in the future.

Interagency looking at grassroots health support committee

Elk Point's Interagency Committee spent much of their October 1 meeting discussing ways of ensuring that the community's health needs are known to the recently formed Area Community Health Council, and to possibly support the role of that Council in the community.

Five area CHCs plus one made up of representatives of native bands and Metis settlements in the Lakeland Regional Health Authority have now been established, and are currently refining their roles. Elk Point is part of an area which also includes Glendon, Bonnyville, Grand Centre and Cold Lake, and has six members on the 12 member CHC. The Area CHCs will be a means of getting input from the member communities regarding health needs, and passing the information on to the LRHA.

The Interagency Committee felt that one way of gathering and conveying this information would be to set up a grassroots umbrella health support committee, made up of representatives of all existing special interest health-related groups and individuals involved in health care. This could include such groups as the ambulance committee, physician recruitment committee, palliative care, home care, FCSS, and health unit along with representatives from the medical and nursing staff at the Elk Point Health Centre.

A three to four member task force was set up to develop a proposal and present it to a future Interagency meeting, with a progress report expected by their next meeting. The possibility that such a committee could be in the offing, will be conveyed to the local members of the Area CHC, to determine their reaction and to see if they think the idea is feasible.

First Night Fest planning starts soon

Planning for the December 31, 1996 First Night Festival will get underway next week. Interested groups are urged to send a representative to the first planning meeting, which is slated for Wednesday, October 23 at 7:00 p.m. in the Seniors' Recreation Centre.

If you have any great suggestions for activities or entertainment for this year's big event, be sure to come along. New faces and new ideas are more than welcome.

Elk Point Baptist Church marks 15 years

Elk Point Baptist Church really had something to be thankful for this Thanksgiving Sunday, as the congregation celebrated their 15th anniversary with a special service.

Singing led by a worship team of Sherry Oszust, Rick Peters, Jim MacLellan and pianist Noni Wilkinson started off the service, and punctuated the service. Mrs. Oszust also offered a special solo, "He'll Be Enough For Me."

A historical update was given by Margaret Modin, who noted that many past members of the congregation were present. "Thank you, Lord, for sending them back to us." Good wishes were received by letter from Irene Magnusson and Deborah Grey.

Mrs. Modin told of the Church's beginning, when Pastor John McGregor asked the Modins about coming to Elk Point to start a church. "We told him, 'If you're just coming for a little while, don't bother.' But he kept his word [that he would stay] and God has blessed us."

The church celebrated their tenth anniversary in 1991, and since that time, the church family has remained stable between 60 and 70 members. Pastor Jim MacLellan carries on a counselling ministry which touches many lives in the community. Whitney Lake Bible Camp also is an outreach ministry, with many who get involved with the camp coming back year after year. The annual children's rally each September reaches out to the children of the community and invites them to be part of the Sunday School, while the Youth Group offers special activities for teens. An annual ladies' rally each March offers fellowship to about 80 ladies.

The church is also home to the community's Parent Nursery group.

September 1994 saw planning begin for a crusade to take place in November of the following year, and was a great success although a backup speaker, Pastor Browning, had to be called in due to the death of Pastor McGregor's father.

Last year marked several beginnings: a Monday morning prayer session, ladies' Bible study, the men's Promise

Keepers group, and a monthly breakfast for the men of the Baptist and Community churches. Recently the church started hosting a Friendship Sunday in alternate months. The first was on "How not to lose your kids," while one coming up in November is on "How to have Christmas without debt."

"The Lord has blessed our ministry. He has seen fit to move some families out of the community, and others into it. We have a pastor who treats situations either with kid gloves or with a steel toed boot, as the occasion demands, and our worship team is a joy to us."

The church is also in a better financial situation than five years ago, with their debt reduced from $60,000 to $30,000. "Can we do anything but praise God for this?" Mrs. Modin asked.

A guest from the Ukraine, Olga Zinchuk, sang a special song in Ukrainian to honor the occasion.

Pastor MacLellan acknowledged letters of congratulation, each containing a contribution toward the church's debt reduction project, from Crossfield and Edson Baptist Churches, and noted that Bonnyville Baptist congregation was taking an offering toward the project also.

Adele Johnson, one of the original Youth Group members, gave a heartfelt testimony about her membership in the church and how it has shaped her life, then was joined by her husband, Ralph, who she met at the Youth Group, in a song entitled "Revive The Church Today."

Pastor MacLellan's sermon for the day was entitled "Ebenezer" and was based on the Bible verse from 1 Samuel 7:12 — "Thus far the Lord has helped us." This seemed to be a very apt verse indeed for the anniversary of a thriving church.

Thanksgiving: yesterday, today and always

By Deanna Easthope

FCSS Director

Yesterday, Monday, October 14 was our Canadian Thanksgiving holiday. A happy day — a time to thank our creator for all that we have. We do live in a good country where we are able to enjoy many freedoms, rights and privileges. And of course — on our Thanksgiving Day, we did enjoy a delicious meal of turkey with all the trimmings. Thanksgiving Day is also a time when family comes together to enjoy each other.

Over this past year, I can think of many things I am thankful for and appreciate their value in my life. One such opportunity was the Elk Point Community Choir trip to Germany, Austria, Switzerland and France. What an opportunity and what a lasting impression. I would like to refer to a few feelings at this time.

I loved the music! Our first night — we stayed in a very old hotel which was about a couple of centuries old, and during the evening and into the early morning hours was the beautiful "trumpet" music. You see, at the back of our beautiful old hotel, was a courtyard of several taverns or "pubs." It is hard to explain, but the trumpet music was smooth and calming, yet happy and enjoyable to listen to. The music being played was "Country and Western," for I was able to recognize the songs. Groups of singers also sang. People were visiting and some even danced. The songs were sung in both German and English. I was very impressed and it really set the mood for our Germany Choir Tour.

We began our tour to the "Romantic Classical" area of Germany. Our tour was well planned, for we saw several cities which demonstrated to us the beauty of this period of our musical history. Small, narrow cobble-stone streets, buildings side-by-side, tall and narrow with window boxes displaying beautiful flowers and many, many people. It was clean — no screens on the windows and doors opened for air circulation. It is in this environment that some of our great "Romantic Classical" musical composers come from — like Mozart, Beethoven, Vivaldi, Dvorak, Debussy, Strauss, Tchaikovsky and others.

Because I was able to be a part of the Choir Tour, I am so thankful for having the opportunity to visit the environment where the "Romantic Classical" music came to be. What an opportunity this last summer — my yesterday has given me to remember today and always. My "Thanksgiving" — thanks for the music.

Help them get home safely

The safety of our children is everyone's concern, all year round. This week is School Bus Safety Week, but this is a matter that needs our attention every week if school children are to get home safely.

It takes the cooperation of us all: the children, the bus drivers, the teachers, the parents and the motoring public to make riding the school bus a safe and enjoyable experience.

The children must learn to obey the rules: to take their seat as soon as they climb aboard, to be well behaved aboard the bus, to dismount safely and follow the driver's instructions for crossing the road safely.

The drivers must keep abreast of the rules of safety and enforce them among their passengers.

The parents and teachers must impress upon the children the need to obey these rules without question.

The motoring public plays a large role in school bus safety. They must always stop when they see the flashing lights of a loading or unloading school bus, and allow ample time for the young passengers to get on or off safely. They must pay attention to road conditions, and be prepared to stop whenever there is a school bus in sight.

Children are precious, and we must all help to keep them safe.

Archives Week

LOOKING BACK -- Barbara Milholland and Grace Barwick reminisce as they look at some of the Elk Point Reviews from 'way back when. The Review's archives were on display as part of last week's National Newspapers Week open house.

Albertans asked to swap recipes, exercise tips, diaries with Provincial Archives

They've pulled recipes, exercise tips and diaries from their stacks and Provincial Archives of Alberta staff are asking Albertans to do the same during Archives Week, October 14 to 19.

The Provincial Archives of Alberta has some recipe books, exercise tips and diaries, but is asking Albertans to dig into their own collections to find items to round out its existing selection. Items donated can include books, pamphlets, catalogues, letters, diaries, posters, photos, films, sound recordings -- anything that documents the Alberta way of life.

The theme for the week is Archives Preserves.. Archives are preserved without sugar, salting, smoking or pickling.

"Archival records deal with raw history. These are real things people can use as reference materials," says Community Development Minister Shirley McClellan. "Archival materials are fabulous and telling. They trace trends and patterns of the last century. It's fascinating to delve back into the past and see what changes and what remains the same."

Old documents and records stored in the basements and garages of Albertans could be of value to the Archives. An archivist is on staff to review items and assess their historical significance. An inquiry about donations to the Provincial Archives of Alberta can be made in person (the west wing of the Provincial Museum and Archives Building) or via mail (12845 - 102 Avenue, Edmonton, T5N 0M6).

The Provincial Archives of Alberta holds 18 km. of records. The most popular records are photos, church archives and genealogical information.

What are archives?

Archives are original or primary sources of information. Archives are the memory of a society -- the accumulated record of the lives and activities of individuals, businesses, associations and governments.

What is the Provincial Archives of Alberta?

The Provincial Archives of Alberta is Alberta's storehouse of documentary history. It was created in 1963 and under the Historical Resources Act it locates, acquires, organizes and makes available historical documents to anyone who is interested.

One of the most important tasks of the Provincial Archives is to preserve the records of the Provincial Government, the stored papers of premiers and cabinet ministers contain major policy decisions. Information about the development and implementation of government's policies and programs is also preserved at the Provincial Archives.

But the Archives don't just retell the stories of politicians. They tell the story of Albertans. Everybody's documentary history is important and could be of value to the Provincial Archives.

What do we look for?

An archives can't store everything. Each archives uses a set of criteria (called an acquisition policy) to choose records. If they don't fit, alternative ideas for deposit are suggested.

The Provincial Archives of Alberta looks for documents that detail, describe or show Alberta in the following ways:

- * Political history
- * Social history (events, lifestyles, leisure activities, work activities, family experiences)
- * Business history
- * Architecture (streetscapes, businesses, homes, schools, health care and recreational facilities)
- * Transportation
- * Environment.

Items donated should detail dates, names, places and descriptions.

Flu season is almost here — are you protected?

The flu season usually arrives by November and lasts until spring. Flu vaccine should be given now in order to achieve good protection. Persons receiving the flu vaccine develop antibodies which will last throughout the current flu season. Yearly immunization prevents flu in about 75% of people who take it and can reduce the severity of illness in others.

Anyone can get sick with the flu, however certain groups of people are considered at greater risk of complications. These groups include:

- a) anyone age 65 or older
- b) those with chronic lung disease such as asthma or emphysema
- c) individuals with heart disease
- d) diabetics or other chronic metabolic disorders
- e) those with anemia
- f) anyone with diseases or undergoing treatment that suppresses immunity

Health care personnel with extensive contact with people who are at greater risk should also receive immunization.

People who meet these criteria can receive immunization free of charge through the provincial immunization programs at health unit clinics.

Individuals with severe allergies to eggs and egg products should NOT receive flu immunization.

Side effects from the immunization are minimal: slight tenderness at site of injection; slight elevation of temperature, chills, headache or mild nausea. These would occur in the first 24 hours following immunization.

Each health unit office will be holding clinics for flu immunization. No appointments are necessary.

REMINDER TO PARENTS OF TEENS AND CHILDREN: products containing ASA (ie. aspirin) should not be used to treat flu symptoms (or chickenpox) as there is a potential risk of development of Reye's Syndrome — a rare but serious disease involving the brain and liver.

Contact the nearest health unit office, or consult your doctor if you have any concerns or questions. DON'T DELAY — vaccine should be given before the end of October.

Contact Lois Sheplawy at the Elk Point Health Unit, 724-3532 for more information.

Heinsburg girls victorious in v-ball

By Brenda Bintz
Heinsburg School

The extra weeknight practice has proven to benefit the team and the Heinsburg Junior Girls' extra work has been rewarded. They took first place at their own volleyball tournament on Saturday, October 5. The seven-girl team started out ahead and maintained their cohesiveness under pressure in the final games against Two Hills.

It was a long day of volleyball. All the teams entered were very closely matched. There were two sudden-death matches to determine who played in the finals.

For the boys, Frog Lake and

Two Hills played off. Two Hills advanced to the final game against Elk Point. Two Hills Junior Boys team took home the first place trophy.

For the girls, Two Hills and Frog Lake played off. Two Hills advanced to the finals against Heinsburg. Heinsburg won the first two sets of the match to end the tournament.

There are Junior Volleyball league play games every Thursday evening. Check your local Junior High for their home game schedule. Support your community youth — come out and cheer them on!

HEINSBURG GIRLS RULED THE COURTS at their Junior Volleyball tournament October 5, winning the Girls' championship over their visitors from Two Hills. The girls are currently tied with Racette and Myrnam for the lead in the East division of the St. Paul Athletic Association league.

Senior Crusaders, Frog Lake suffer volleyball woes

Senior volleyball teams from Elk Point and Frog Lake could have had a better week. Both pairs of teams came home with a 1 win-3 loss record apiece after Frog Lake visited Mallaig and Elk Point took on Ashmont last Wednesday.

This was not an auspicious season start for the Elk Point Crusaders, who will travel to Saddle Lake this week.

The trio of losses was a disappointment for Frog Lake Boys, who won all four of their games the previous week. Frog Lake first week games. Frog Lake Lake Girls lost all four of their hosts Regional this Wednesday.

Question of the week: Is there life after turkey?

By Sherry Pelech
Review Contributor

That, of course is the burning question one or two days after the advent of the Thanksgiving turkey. It seems like only yesterday that you presented the golden bird at a family dinner to cries of "Ooooh" and "Aaaah." Now the tender white meat and succulent dark have been demoted to the lowly status of leftovers. But maybe we can find a few ways to deal with the 'eternal bird.'

And if, at the end of all this, you still have turkey left over, maybe you should seriously consider downsizing your bird another year.

Turkey Waldorf Salad

Serves 4

2 cups diced, cooked turkey
1 large tart apple, cored, diced

1 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped walnuts
1/4 cup mayonnaise
2 tsp. lime juice
2 tsp. honey
salt and pepper

Combine turkey, apple, celery and walnuts. Combine mayonnaise, lime juice and honey. Season to taste. Spoon dressing over salad and toss to coat.

Deep-Dish Turkey Pot Pie

Serves 6

Filling:
4 Tbsp. butter
1/2 cup celery, chopped
1/2 cup onion, chopped
1/4 cup flour
2 cup turkey broth
salt and pepper

2 cups cooked, diced turkey
1/4 cup parsley, chopped
1/2 tsp. sage

Pastry:

1 cup whole wheat flour
2 cups flour
1/2 tsp salt
6 Tbsp. chilled shortening
3 - 5 Tbsp. ice water

Saute celery and onion in butter until tender. Add flour and cook, stirring for one minute without browning. Gradually add broth and cook, stirring until sauce thickens. Season to taste. Stir in turkey, parsley and sage.

Stir together flours and salt. Cut in shortening until mixture resembles cornmeal. Sprinkle with ice water until dough stays together. Roll into a ball and divide into two parts. Roll out one part of dough 1/4 inch thick. Line a two quart round baking dish with pastry, allowing edges to extend over sides. Moisten top edge with water. Add filling. Roll out second half of dough and place over top of baking dish. Seal edges. Make several slashes in top. Bake one hour in preheated 350o oven.

Old-Fashioned Turkey Chowder

Serves 10

1 cup onions, diced
2 cups celery, diced
3/4 cup butter
8 cups turkey broth
2 cups mashed potatoes
2 cups turkey, diced
1 - 19 oz. can creamed corn

Library Conference looks at what the future holds

How can Alberta's public libraries serve their communities better? What does the information superhighway mean for the future role of libraries?

These are just two questions that will be explored as more than 100 staff, volunteers, and board members from public and school libraries across Alberta gather in St. Paul on October 17 and 18 for the third annual Northern Lights Library System conference.

Alberta Community Development minister Shirley McClellan is the keynote speaker on Friday morning. She'll be talking on future directions for the provincial Libraries Branch, part of her portfolio. Author Ted Stone, who was short-listed for the 1984 Stephen Leacock Award, is also a featured conference speaker.

Other sessions include a look at the Internet, tips on hosting authors, and developing programs to bring more community members into the library. The Exshaw library in southwestern Alberta will share its success story — how a change in direction boosted membership and circulation. A panel of Northern Lights member libraries will talk on system membership.

The conference is being held in conjunction with the Alberta Library Trustees Association orientation workshop.

The Northern Lights Library System, headquartered in Elk Point, is one of seven such regional networks in Alberta. It currently has 16 member municipalities, and could expand to an area bounded on the south by municipalities along Highway 14, by Edmonton city limits on the west, and the Northwest Territories border, if provincial changes go ahead.

System membership is voluntary, and members continue to manage their local library budgets, staffing, and policies. Northern Lights provides services that include centralized buying and processing of materials, coordination of author tours and other programs, interlibrary loans, technical support and training for library staff, and special collections such as talking and large print. Patrons of Northern Lights libraries can also use their cards free of charge at more than 100 other libraries in Alberta and Saskatchewan.

More information on the conference is available by calling (403) 724-2596.

Is there life after turkey?

Add to broth. Cook, covered, 15 minutes. Cook noodles, drain and add to soup. Cook 5 minutes and serve.

Turkey Vegetable Soup

Serves 4

1/2 cup onion, diced

1 cup celery, diced

1 cup carrots, sliced

1/4 tsp. thyme

2 Tbsp. butter

4 cups turkey broth

4 Tbsp. barley

2 cups cooked turkey, diced

2 Tbsp. parsley, chopped

Saute onion, celery, carrots and thyme in butter 5 minutes. Stir in broth and barley. Simmer on low heat 30 minutes. Stir in turkey and parsley. Simmer 5 minutes longer and serve.

Turkey Minestrone with Pumpkin Noodles

Serves 8

1 onion, diced

1 clove garlic, minced

2 Tbsp. oil

3/4 cup ham, diced

4 carrots, diced

2 stalks celery, diced

1/2 cup green pepper, diced

8 cups turkey stock

1 - 28 oz. can tomatoes

1/2 cup green onions, sliced

2 cups cabbage, shredded

2 cups turkey, diced

1 - 14 oz. can kidney beans

1 - 14 oz. can green beans

salt, pepper

Parmesan cheese

Cook onion and garlic in oil.

Add ham, carrots, celery and green peppers, saute 3 minutes. Add stock and tomatoes. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer uncovered 30 minutes. Add green onions, cabbage, turkey, kidney beans and green beans. Bring to a boil, reduce heat and simmer 20 minutes longer. Add noodles and heat through. Season to taste. Sprinkle with cheese.

Pumpkin Noodles

1 egg

1/2 tsp. salt

1/3 cup mashed pumpkin

1 cup flour

Beat egg, salt and pumpkin together. Gradually add flour until a soft dough is formed. Turn dough out onto a floured surface and knead in enough flour to make a stiff dough. Allow it to rest 15 minutes in a covered bowl. Roll out on a well-floured surface, adding flour generously. (Dough tends to be sticky, so keep sprinkling with flour to keep dry.) When dough is rolled as thin as possible, cut into thin strips. Cook in rapidly boiling, salted water 10 minutes or until tender. Drain. Rinse in cold water. Toss with a little oil to keep from sticking.

Dilled Turkey and Potato Salad

Serves 4

2 red potatoes, cut bite-sized

6 Tbsp. olive oil

2 Tbsp white wine vinegar

2 cups cooked, diced turkey

1 1/2 tsp. dried dill

2 green onions, sliced

2 tsp. lemon juice

salt, pepper, dash of cayenne

Cook potatoes in boiling water until just tender. Drain. Toss warm potatoes with oil and vinegar. Let cool 15 minutes. Add turkey, dill, onions, lemon juice and seasonings. Toss to mix well. Cover and refrigerate. Serve chilled.

What's news at the library?

A raft of best sellers now arriving

By Michele Duczek

Librarian

Just two weeks ago I mentioned the raft of best-sellers that soon would be arriving at the library. The first batch of these have arrived for your reading pleasure:

The Merry Heart: Selections 1980 - 1995 by Robertson Davies is a work that was in the planning stages before his death last December. This is a collection of writing on a wide range of topics.

A Killing Spring by Gail Bowen is the latest Joanne Kilbourn mystery. A dead journalism professor, hard-to-believe accusations of sexual harassment, vandalism, troubles with her lover and being fired from a political panel are just a few of the problems Joanne faces in this thriller set in Regina.

IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY OF DOUG BERG

*Today recalls sad memories of a dear father gone to rest;
And the ones who think of him today
Are the ones who loved him best.*

Sadly missed by son Lorn, wife Angie and grandsons Dustin and Dylan and daughter Roxie, husband Leonard Bretzer and grandchildren Bradley, Bailey, Brandi and Brandon.

In keeping with the Halloween season (I know, I know, it's a day, not a whole season), the juvenile series have come out with timely tales:

The Sweet Valley Twins wraps up its Frightening Four miniseries with If I Die Before I Wake. The beast from the Riccolini children's nightmares is no longer a dream.. she is terrifyingly real.

Carole gets spooked by a stable hand's tales of a phantom horse and becomes convinced that her beloved Starlight had become possessed by an evil spirit in Phantom Horse from the Saddle Club.

A wicked sea witch is turning the merpeople into giant chess pieces and Thistle Howl must beat her at a game of chess in order to rescue them in Kiss

Thank You

I would like to thank everyone for sponsoring me in the Terry Fox Run. Special thanks to my family for being so generous with their pledges.

Peggy Maas

THANK YOU

We would like to thank everyone who expressed condolences, sent cards, baking & flowers on behalf of Orville Swedgan.

Dina Leaf & family of the Mermaid by Erica Farber and J. R. Sansevere, a Mercer Mayer's Critters of the Night and a Step Into Reading Book.

Justin and his sister Melissa get lost in the creepy woods of Brovania while looking for an ancient manuscript in Legend of the Lost Legend from Goosebumps.

A fire-breathing dragon appears in Spooksville looking for its lost treasure and is burning everything in its way in The Hidden Beast from Spooksville by Christopher Pike.

HOW MANY FIREFMEN TO PICK UP A PICKUP? -- Elk Point Volunteer Fire Department demonstrates their inflatable vehicle lift, which took no time at all to heave the rear of this pickup truck high into the air.
